PREFACE

The Occupational Classification Manual is designed for use in the Census of Canada, 1971. Traditionally, the census occupational classification used in the immediately preceding census is revised to take account of changes in the occupational composition of the labour force resulting from industrial and technological developments in the decade. The present manual represents a much more fundamental departure from the past, however, in that it is based upon the Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations (CCDO)—a multipurpose occupational classification system which provides definitions for the constituent occupations and groups. The CCDO has been developed in recent years through a co-operative project of the Department of Manpower and Immigration and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The change from an occupational classification system designed purely for census use to a multi-purpose or "standard" classification has important consequences. It brings occupational distributions of census data into a general system that includes such related statistics as those derived from immigration records, employment placement programmes, vocational education and training programmes and the like. In addition, it results in a basic revision of the grouping system used by the Census for occupational data. The new system of grouping is the result of field work carried out by the Department of Manpower and Immigration over a number of years involving job analysis and occupational analysis. This, along with DBS experience in past censuses, provides a practical and useful system geared to the needs of researchers and others concerned with modern occupational programmes and problems.

This Manual was prepared in the Central Classifications Section of DBS by Mrs. Suzanne Fortey and Mrs. Bernice Richardson under the immediate supervision of Rodger O. Lee.

The CCDO project from which it was derived is carried on under the joint direction of Messrs. J.E. Andoff for the Department of Manpower and Immigration and Neil L. McKellar for the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

PRÉFACE

Le Manuel de classification des professions sera utilisé pendant le recensement du Canada de 1971. Par le passé, on révisait la classification professionnelle utilisée au cours du recensement précédent pour tenir compte des changements apportés, en une décennie, à la structure professionnelle de la population active par le développement industriel et technologique. Le présent manuel rompt délibérément avec le passé. La nouveauté est qu'on l'a préparé en fonction de l'ouvrage de référence intitulé "Classification et Dictionnaire canadiens des professions" (CDCP), classification polyvalente des professions, qui fournit des définitions pour chaque profession et groupe qu'il englobe. Le CDCP, est une réalisation conjointe du ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration et du Bureau fédéral de la statistique.

Le fait de passer d'un système de classification des professions réservé uniquement aux besoins du recensement à une classification polyvalente ou normalisée entraîne d'importantes répercussions. Les répartitions professionnelles tirées des données du recensement doivent maintenant entrer dans un cadre général qui comprend des statistiques connexes comme celles qui dérivent des registres de l'immigration, des programmes de placement, des programmes d'enseignement et de formation professionnelle, etc. En outre, ce changement entraîne une révision fondamentale du système de groupement des données sur les professions utilisé pour les besoins du recensement. Le nouveau système de groupement résulte d'un travail sur le terrain accompli par le ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration, travail qui s'est étalé sur plusieurs années et qui comprenait des analyses des professions. Ce travail, ajouté à l'expérience acquise par le BFS au cours des derniers recensements, a donné naissance à un système pratique et utile, répondant aux besoins des chercheurs et de tous ceux qui s'intéressent de près ou de loin aux problèmes actuels que pose l'étude des professions.

Ce manuel a été préparé à la Section de la classification centrale et intégration, sociétés-établissements du BFS par Mmes Suzanne Fortey et Bernice Richardson, sous la direction de M. Rodger O. Lee.

Le "programme CDCP" qui est à la base du présent manuel est dirigé conjointement par MM. J.E. Andoff, du ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration, et Neil L. McKellar, du Bureau fédéral de la statistique.

INTRODUCTION

This Occupational Classification Manual, has been prepared primarily for use in the Census of Canada, 1971. It is designed as a coding manual and contains comprehensive indexes of occupational titles to obtain consistent coding of occupations enumerated in the census. Other occupational statistics obtained from such sources as immigration, employment placement and vocational training programs are often used in conjunction with Census occupational data, although heretofore no standard occupational classification system has been available for general use. Such a standard is now available in the form of the Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations which has been used as the basis for this Manual.<sup>1</sup>

The Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations (CCDO)

The CCDO provides for Canada a multipurpose instrument for use in manpower research; the formulation of manpower policies; support of employment and educational programmes; for statistical survey purposes, including census taking; and for operational activities such as employment placement, employment counselling, immigration and promoting mobility of workers within the country. It is anticipated that the CCDO will increase the quantity and improve the quality and usefulness of occupational information in Canada by standardizing the occupational categories used in different programmes and consequently the occupational statistics and other information derived from them.

Volume I of the CCDO provides a systematic classification structure for all occupations in Canada. The classification structure has four levels providing successively finer detail, as follows: major groups, minor groups, unit groups and occupational titles. Definitions have been developed at all levels. Volume II deals with occupational qualification requirements.

The various groups of the classification contain occupations found to have a desirable degree of homogeneity with respect to "kind of work performed" as determined by analysis of the duties and tasks of the constituent occupations. "Kind of work performed" has been selected as the basic principle of the classification because it is the most prevalent characteristic encountered when occupations are described and analysed.

The Census Occupational Classification Manual Based on the CCDO

The occupational classification structure in this manual, being almost identical with that of the Ce Manuel de classification des professions a été préparé principalement pour le recensement du Canada de 1971. Il se présente sous la forme d'un manuel de codage et renferme des index de titres des professions qui permettent d'obtenir un codage uniforme des professions dénombrées au cours du recensement. D'autres statistiques sur les professions, tirées de domaines comme l'immigration, le placement et les programmes de formation professionnelle sont souvent utilisées parallèlement aux données de même nature obtenues du recensement, bien qu'il n'y ait pas eu jusqu'à présent de système de classification type, d'un usage général. Cette classification type existe maintenant, il s'agit de l'ouvrage qui porte le titre de "Classification et Dictionnaire canadiens des professions" dont s'inspire le présent Manuel<sup>1</sup>.

Classification et Dictionnaire canadiens des professions (CDCP)

Le CDCP est un instrument polyvalent qui se révélera utile dans de nombreux domaines: recherche et établissement de politiques en matière de main-d'oeuvre, programmes de formation professionnelle, enquêtes statistiques (recensement compris), placement, orientation professionnelle, immigration et promotion de la mobilité des travailleurs à l'intérieur du pays. Le CDCP, en normalisant les catégories professionnelles utilisées dans les différents programmes et, par conséquent, les statistiques professionnelles et les autres informations qui en dérivent, augmentera le volume d'information sur les professions disponible au Canada et en améliorera la qualité et l'utilité.

Le Volume 1 du CDCP présente une structure de classification systématique de toutes les professions du Canada. Cette structure a quatre niveaux de précision croissante: grands groupes, sous-groupes, groupes de base et professions. Les définitions sont énoncées à chaque niveau. Le Volume II porte sur les exigences professionnelles.

On a groupé ensemble les professions qui ont un certain degré d'homogénéité par rapport au "genre de travail exécuté", ce dernier étant déterminé par l'analyse des fonctions et des tâches de chaque profession. On a pris pour critère le "genre de travail exécuté" parce qu'il s'agit de la caractéristique que l'on rencontre le plus souvent dans les analyses et descriptions de professions.

Le Manuel de classification des professions à l'usage du recensement inspiré du CDCP

La structure de classification des professions du manuel, qui est presque identique à celle du <sup>1</sup> This census manual was published some months earlier than the complete CCDO. To meet census requirements (i.e. census coding was scheduled for June-August 1971) coding materials were needed in the earlier months of that year. The CCDO was scheduled for completion in May 1971 with publication in the fall of that year.

CCDO, differs considerably from the one used in the 1961 Census, although the basic principle of "kind of work performed" has been retained. This classification contains 22 major groups, 81 minor groups and 486 unit groups having 2-digit, 3-digit, and 4-digit codes respectively. Such traditional major groups as "Professional and Technical Occupations" and "Craftsmen, Production Process and Related Workers" have been sub-divided into less heterogeneous groupings at the major group level.

Users of census occupational data have experienced difficulty because of the size and heterogeneity of residual or "not elsewhere classified" groups. The CCDO has been designed to minimize the number of occupations in residual groups and this practice is carried through to the present manual. Despite this, such residual groups as those for managers and labourers could still be relatively large in census tabulations due to the problems in enumeration of occupational information. At present it is planned to further subdivide such groups by industrial categories at the tabulation stage. A cross classification by industry has been found useful in these cases because the industrial distribution of such residual occupational groups gives some indication of the kinds of work included. A list of the proposed tabulations is given in an appendix to this manual. Publication will depend upon the actual numbers reported.

Related Classifications

For statistical purposes the classification of occupations does not stand alone but must be understood as related to the classifications of industries and that of status (class of worker) — as self-employed (E or OA), employee (W) or unpaid family worker (NP).<sup>2</sup> Each of these statistical classifications supplements the others in presenting a rounded picture of the nature of a person's job.

As indicated above, an occupation is described in terms of the kind of work performed irrespective of the kind of business in which it is carried on or the "status" of the individual performing it.

The industry in which the individual is employed is determined by the principal kind of economic activity of the establishment in which he works. For this purpose an "establishment" may consist of an CDCP, diffère considérablement de celle qui avait été utilisée au cours du recensement de 1961, bien que le critère de base "genre de travail exécuté" ait été gardé. La classification comprend 22 grands groupes, 81 sous-groupes et 486 groupes de base qui ont, respectivement, des numéros-codes de 2, 3 et 4 chiffres. Des groupes traditionnels comme "Professions libérales et techniques" et "Ouvriers de métiers, artisans, ouvriers à la production et travailleurs assimilés" ont été subdivisés en groupes plus homogènes au niveau des grands groupes.

Les utilisateurs des données du recensement sur les professions ont rencontré des difficultés à cause de la taille et de l'hétérogénéité des groupes résiduels identifiés par l'expression "non classés ailleurs". Le CDCP réduit au minimum le nombre de professions qui restent dans les groupes résiduels et il en va de même du présent manuel. Malgré tout, des groupes résiduels comme ceux des directeurs et des travailleurs agricoles sont encore relativement vastes en raison des problèmes qui se posent au moment du dénombrement. On prévoit présentement de subdiviser encore ces groupes par catégorie industrielle au moment du dépouillement. Une classification recoupée par industrie s'est avérée des plus utiles dans ces cas parce que la répartition par industrie des groupes de professions résiduels donne des indications sur les différents genres de travail compris dans ces groupes. Le lecteur trouvera en appendice une liste des dépouillements proposés. La publication de ces renseignements dépendra du nombre de cas dénombrés.

Classifications complémentaires

La classification des professions, pour les besoins de la statistique, n'est pas considérée comme un tout isolé. Elle est reliée à la classification des industries et à celle de la catégorie des travailleurs — comme, par exemple, travailleur à son compte, employé ou travailleur non rémunéré occupé dans une entreprise ou ferme familiale<sup>2</sup>. Chacune de ces classifications statistiques complète les autres et l'ensemble donne une image totale de la nature du travail d'une personne.

Comme indiqué plus haut, une profession est définie par rapport au genre de travail exécuté, sans tenir compte du genre de l'entreprise dans laquelle ce travail est accompli ou de la classe de la personne qui l'exécute.

L'industrie dans laquelle travaille la personne en question est déterminée par le principal genre d'activité économique de l'établissement qui l'emploie. A cette fin, un "établissement" peut se

Working for wages, salary, tips or commission?	(i.e. W)
Working without pay in a family business or farm?	(i.e. NP)
Self-employed without paid help?	(i.e. OA)
Self-employed with paid help?	(i.e. E)

<sup>2</sup> La question 37 du questionnaire du recensement indique ces catégories de la manière suivante:

Travaillez-vous principalement:
A salaire, traitement, pourboire ou commission?
Sans rémunération dans une entreprise ou ferme familiale?
A votre compte, sans aide payée?
A votre compte, avec aide payée?

individual working on his own account but usually it is a factory, mine, farm, store or other place of business or an institution having certain basic records. An industrial classification is used to classify establishments according to branches of economic activity, i.e. industries. The information obtained for an individual on the Census and which is coded according to the kind of work he does (occupation) and the kind of establishment in which he works (industry), reveals more clearly the nature of the individual's work than would either a distribution by occupation or industry alone.

An individual's relationship to the enterprise in which he is engaged, i.e. his status (class of worker), provides another means of describing his work. In this case, the grouping system depends upon the kind of service performed by the individual as indicated by the form of remuneration he receives. The self-employed depend upon a residual return in the form of profit while employees are paid wages or salaries and unpaid family workers receive no set remuneration. The addition of status to the other two classifications gives a rounded picture of the nature of the individual's employment. Each of the three foregoing classification systems is independent, yet together they form a related system. The Standard Industrial Classification Manual, 1970 (SIC) published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics is the industrial counterpart of this Manual.

The qualifying word(s) for an industry or an industrial process attached to most of the occupational titles in the Manual are not intended as a description of the industry in which the individual concerned is employed. They serve to amplify the occupational titles and to distinguish identical occupational titles in entirely different work contexts. For example, no relationship exists between the work performed by a "Blender" in cheese manufacturing and a "Blender" in tobacco product manufacturing. The former is classified in Unit Group 8223 - Milk Processing Occupations and the latter in Unit Group 8293 - Tobacco Processing Occupations. In many cases the industrial process concerned may not be the principal activity of the establishment in which the occupation is found. Thus the qualifier is not, strictly speaking, an "industrial designation". Nonetheless, knowledge of the kind of establishment in which the individual works is often useful information in coding his occupation as to kind of work performed.

résumer à un seul individu travaillant à son propre compte. En général, toutefois, il s'agira d'une fabrique, d'une mine, d'une exploitation agricole, d'un magasin ou autre entreprise commerciale ou d'une institution qui tient une comptabilité de base. Une classification des industries a pour but de classer les établissements en fonction des branches de l'activité économique c'est-à-dire des industries. Les renseignements obtenus grâce au recensement sur une personne et qui sont codés en fonction du genre de travail qu'elle fait (profession) et du genre d'établissement dans lequel elle travaille (industrie), révèlent de façon plus nette la nature de son travail que ne le ferait une répartition par profession ou par industrie.

La situation d'une personne dans l'entreprise qui l'emploie, c'est-à-dire sa classe (catégorie), fournit un autre moyen de description du travail. Dans ce cas, le système de groupement dépend du genre de service ou de travail accompli par la personne lequel est indiqué par la forme de rémunération qu'elle reçoit. La personne qui travaille à son propre compte touche les profits, tandis que les employés reçoivent des traitements ou des salaires et les personnes qui travaillent sans rémunération ne reçoivent évidemment rien. L'indication de la classe, ajoutée aux deux autres classifications, donne une idée plus complète de la nature du travail de la personne en question. Chacun des trois systèmes de classification précités est indépendant; cependant, ensemble, ils forment un système intégré. La Classification des activités économiques, 1970 (CAE) publiée par le Bureau fédéral de la statistique est le pendant, dans le domaine des activités, du présent manuel.

Les qualificatifs utilisés pour décrire une ou plusieurs activités qui se rattachent à une profession dans le manuel n'ont pas pour objectif de décrire l'activité économique elle-même dans laquelle la personne en question travaille. Ils servent à préciser les titres des professions et à distinguer des titres de professions identiques mais qui sont placés dans des contextes professionnels totalement différents. Par exemple, il n'existe aucune relation entre le travail accompli par un "agent" dans une agence immobilière et un "agent" dans le transport ferroviaire. Le premier est classé dans le sous-groupe 5172 (Agents d'immeubles) et le second dans le sous-groupe 4193 (Commis d'agence de voyage et de gare et agents de billets et de trafic). Dans de nombreux cas l'opération concernée peut ne pas constituer la principale activité d'un établissement dans lequel se trouve la profession. Ainsi le qualificatif n'est pas, à proprement parler, une "désignation industrielle". Néanmoins, le fait de connaître le genre d'établissement dans lequel travaille une personne constitue souvent une information utile non seulement pour le codage de sa profession mais encore pour connaître le genre de travail exécuté.

The qualifiers indicating industry or industrial process used in this Manual differ from those used in the CCDO and shown after its occupational titles. The CCDO list of "industrial designations" was developed by aggregating various SIC groups. This Manual makes use of terms from the SIC as well as other words considered helpful in qualifying the occupation for census coding purposes.

The qualification "Any Industry" is attached to a considerable number of the occupational titles listed in this Manual. It is used in connection with occupations that are found in practically all industries or those carried on in a number of industries too extensive to list. If the occupational title is known to be used differently in a particular industry, it is given the qualification "Any, Except...".

EXPLANATORY NOTES

The Population Census Questionnaire and methods for the 1971 Census differ in several important respects from those used in the 1961 Census. For the first time information is being obtained by self-enumeration from a major part of the population. Certain questions, including those on economic characteristics are being obtained on a sample basis rather than from all individuals in the population. The question on occupation is composed of three parts resulting in more information which is expected to permit more precise coding. Despite all these changes, however, the occupational descriptions given on the census documents will inevitably be quite broad and general. To attempt to classify these returns according to an elaborate and detailed classification system would imply more precision than the census data can be expected to possess. For this reason, as mentioned earlier, only the first three levels of the classification structure, represented by two, three and four digit codes, are used in this manual.

This Occupational Classification Manual, Census of Canada 1971 is published in two volumes. Volume I contains the classification structure and definitions for the major, minor and unit groups. Volume II contains the classification structure and two separate indexes. A Classified Index lists individual occupational titles arranged alphabetically within their respective unit, minor and major groups. An Alphabetical Index presents the occupational titles in alphabetical order, irrespective of group association.

Les qualificatifs utilisés dans le Manuel pour définir l'industrie ou l'opération industrielle diffèrent de ceux qui sont utilisés dans le CDCP et sont indiqués après les titres des professions. Dans le CDCP, la liste des "désignations industrielles" a été mise au point en combinant divers groupes de la CAE. Dans la qualification des professions, pour les besoins du codage du recensement, le Manuel fait usage aussi bien de termes tirés de la CAE que d'autres expressions considérées comme utiles.

L'expression "Toute industrie" qualifie un nombre considérable de titres de professions énumérés dans le manuel. Elle est utilisée lorsque des professions se retrouvent pratiquement dans toutes les industries ou dans un nombre d'industries trop élevé pour être énumérées. Si l'on sait que le titre d'une profession est utilisé différemment dans une industrie particulière, on précise ce fait par la qualification "Toute, sauf...".

NOTES EXPLICATIVES

Le questionnaire sur la population ainsi que la méthodologie du recensement de 1971 diffèrent sous plusieurs aspects de ceux qui ont été utilisés en 1961. Pour la première fois, les renseignements seront recueillis, auprès de la plus grande partie de la population, au moyen d'un autodénombrement. Certaines questions, y compris celles qui portent sur les caractéristiques économiques, ne seront posées qu'à un échantillon plutôt qu'à l'ensemble de la population active. La question sur la profession se compose de trois parties qui fourniront beaucoup plus de renseignements que par le passé, ce qui permettra un codage plus précis. Toutefois, malgré tous ces changements, les descriptions des professions données sur les documents du recensement seront, et c'est inévitable, vagues et générales. Essayer de classer ces données en fonction d'une classification élaborée et détaillée impliquerait une plus grande précision que ce que nous sommes en droit d'attendre des données du recensement. Pour cette raison, et comme on l'a mentionné plus haut, seuls les trois premiers niveaux de la structure de la classification, représentés par des numéros-codes à deux, trois et quatre chiffres, sont utilisés dans le Manuel.

Le Manuel de classification des professions (recensement du Canada, 1971) se compose de deux volumes. Le Volume I renferme la structure de la classification et les définitions des grands groupes, sous-groupes et groupes de base. Le Volume II présente la structure de la classification et deux index séparés: un index analytique qui énumère les professions disposées alphabétiquement à l'intérieur de leur groupes respectifs et un index alphabétique, qui présente les professions dans l'ordre alphabétique, sans tenir compte des groupes.

This Manual differs in some very minor respects from the complete CCDO in that a few additional groups have been provided at the various levels and a few have been deleted. These structural changes have been made solely to meet Census needs. For Census purposes, occupations must be combined, providing statistics at different levels of aggregation, reflecting the general character of the original information; this is unlike employment placement, for example, where very detailed occupational information is needed and where interviews can be held to provide such precise information.

The following changes from the complete CCDO will be encountered by users of this Manual:

- (a) Major Group 37—Occupations in Sport and Recreation is listed as Minor Group 337 for Census purposes.
- (b) Unit Group 1173—Organization and Methods Analysts has been deleted and the occupations included with Unit Group 2145—Industrial Engineers.
- (c) New Unit Group 2513—Nuns and Brothers n.o.r. has been created.
- (d) Unit Groups 3351—Writers and Editors, Publication and 3353—Writers and Editors: Radio, Television, Theatre and Motion Pictures have been combined into a new Unit Group 3352—Writers and Editors.
- (e) Unit Group 6131—Managers: Hotel, Motel and Other Accommodation has been created.
- (f) Unit Groups 6161—Laundering Occupations and 6163—Dry Cleaning Occupations have been combined into a new Unit Group 6162—Laundering and Dry Cleaning Occupations.
- (g) Unit Groups 7111—General Farmers, 7113—Animal Farmers and 7115—Crop Farmers have been combined into a new Unit Group 7112—Farmers.
- (h) Unit Groups 7181 to 7193 and 7198, dealing with farming, horticultural and animal husbandry occupations, have been combined into a new Unit Group 7182—Farm Workers.

Some 25,000 separate occupational titles comprise the alphabetical index in Volume II of this Manual. Many of these titles are in inverted form to facilitate coding. Groupings of these occupational titles make up the various unit groups of the classification. Within each major group, one or more minor groups are identified and within each minor group, one or more unit groups. A functional relationship is reinforced by means of the coding system. For example:

Major Group 61 —Service Occupations

Le Manuel diffère sous certains aspects, d'importance secondaire, du CDCP dans ce sens qu'un petit nombre de groupes supplémentaires ont été ajoutés à différents niveaux et que certains autres ont été supprimés. Ces modifications de structure ont été apportées uniquement dans le but de répondre aux besoins du recensement, qui veulent que les professions soient groupées pour fournir des statistiques à différents niveaux d'agrégation et pour refléter le caractère général de l'information originale; il s'agit là d'une exigence tout à fait différente de celle, par exemple, qui se rencontre dans le domaine du placement, où l'on requiert des renseignements d'ordre professionnel très détaillés et où l'on peut recourir à l'interview pour recueillir des renseignements aussi précis.

Les utilisateurs observeront les différences suivantes entre le Manuel et le CDCP:

- (a) Le grand groupe 37—Professions en sport et récréation devient sous-groupe 337 pour les fins du recensement.
- (b) Le groupe de base 1173—Analystes d'organisation et méthodes a été supprimé et ces professions sont inclus dans le groupe de base 2145 Ingénieurs en organisation et méthodes.
- (c) Le groupe de base 2513—Religieuses et frères, n.d.a. a été créé.
- (d) Les groupes de base 3351—Écrivains et rédacteurs, publication et 3353 Écrivains et rédacteurs: radio, télévision, théâtre et cinéma, ont été combinés dans le nouveau groupe de base 3352—Écrivains et rédacteurs.
- (e) Le groupe de base 6131—Gérants d'hôtels, motels et autres logements a été créé.
- (f) Les groupes de base 6161—Blanchisseurs et 6163—Nettoyeurs à sec ont été combinés dans le nouveau groupe de base 6162—Nettoyeurs et blanchisseurs.
- (g) Les groupes de base 7111—Exploitants agricoles polyvalents, 7113—Éleveurs et 7115—Cultivateurs ont été combinés dans le nouveau groupe de base 7112—Fermiers.
- (h) Les groupes de base 7181 à 7193 et 7198, concernant l'agriculture, horticulture et élevage ont été combinés dans le nouveau groupe de base 7182—Ouvriers agricoles.

L'index alphabétique du Volume II du Manuel contient quelque 25,000 titres de professions. La dénomination d'un grand nombre de professions est inversée pour faciliter le codage. Les divers groupes de base de la classification sont constitués de groupements de ces professions. A l'intérieur de chaque grand groupe se trouvent un ou plusieurs sous-groupes eux-mêmes subdivisés en un ou plusieurs groupes de base. Le système de codage renforce les rapports fonctionnels qui existent entre les groupes. Par exemple:

Grand groupe 61 —Occupations dans les services

Minor Group 611 —Protective Service Occupations

Unit Group 6111—Fire Fighting Occupations

Unit Group 6112—Policemen and Detectives, Government

It should be noted that the major group code is repeated at all levels and the minor group code is repeated at the unit group level.

Within relevant minor groups, provision has been made whenever possible to assign a distinct code number to particular occupational groups viz. "Foremen (or Supervisors)"; "Inspectors, Testers, Graders and Samplers"; and "Occupations in Labouring and Other Elemental Work". For example:

6120 Supervisors, Food and Beverage Preparation and Related Service Occupations

8110 Foremen, Mineral Ore Treating Occupations

8116 Inspecting, Testing, Grading and Sampling Occupations, Mineral Ore Treating

8118 Occupations in Labouring and Other Elemental Work, Mineral Ore Treating

As a general rule, the final digit of the 4-digit code identifies each of these types of occupational groups. Thus a zero signifies a category of supervisor or foreman; 6 usually signifies an inspector; and 8 a labourer. In order to maintain flexibility in the classification system, the use of 6 and 8 is not universally applied to the above groups and, where not needed for inspectors and labourers, these digits have been used without any special significance.

Special Rules for Census Coding Regarding Certain Occupations

Apprentices. — As a general rule apprentices (or learners, trainees) are classified with the occupations for which they are being trained. Thus, an apprentice plumber is classified as a plumber, an apprentice draughtsman as a draughtsman, and so on. An exception is made, however, in the case of some professional occupations. Student nurses are not classified in Unit Group 3131—Nurses, Graduate, Except Supervisors, a special Unit Group 3133—Nurses-in-Training being provided for them. Articled clerks in offices of chartered accountants are classified in Unit Group 4131—Bookkeepers and Accounting Clerks, conversely interns are classified with Unit Group 3111—Physicians and Surgeons.

Helpers. — As a general rule helpers are classified either with the tradesmen or other occupations they support, or they are classified as labourers in the appropriate unit groups entitled "Occupations

Sous groupe 611 —Occupations dans les services de protection.

Groupe de base 6111—Pompiers

Groupe de base 6112—Policiers et détectives gouvernementaux.

Il convient de noter que le numéro-code du grand groupe est répété à tous les niveaux et que le numéro-code du sous-groupe se retrouve au niveau des groupes de base.

On a prévu, dans la mesure du possible, des numéros-codes distincts pour les groupes professionnels particuliers à l'intérieur de certains sous-groupes, comme: "Contremaître (ou Surveillants)"; "Inspecteurs, vérificateurs, trieurs et échantillonneurs"; et "Manoeuvres". Par exemple:

6120 — Surveillants: occupations en préparation d'aliments et breuvages et services connexes.

8110 — Contremaîtres: occupations en transformation du minéral.

8116 — Inspecteurs, vérificateurs, trieurs et échantillonneurs du minéral.

8118 — Manoeuvre dans le traitement du minéral.

En règle générale, le dernier chiffre du numéro-code à 4 chiffres identifie chacun de ces genres de groupes professionnels. Ainsi un zéro signifie qu'il s'agit de la catégorie des surveillants ou des contremaîtres; un 6 qu'il s'agit d'un inspecteur; et un 8 d'un manoeuvre. Afin de garder une certaine souplesse au système de classification, les chiffres 6 et 8 ne sont pas uniformément utilisés pour les groupes ci-dessus et, là où ces catégories de professions n'existent pas, ces chiffres ont été utilisés sans aucune signification particulière.

Règles spéciales de codage pour certaines professions

Apprentis. — En général, les apprentis (ou stagiaires), sont classés dans les professions pour lesquelles ils se destinent. Ainsi, un apprenti-plombier est considéré comme un plombier, un apprenti-dessinateur comme dessinateur, et ainsi de suite. Il y a cependant certaines exceptions à cette règle: les élèves infirmières ne sont pas classées dans le groupe de base 3131—Infirmiers diplômés, sauf surveillants, mais dans le groupe de base 3133 — Infirmiers en formation. Les stagiaires qui travaillent dans des bureaux de comptables agréés sont classés dans le sous-groupe 4131—Teneurs de livres; par contre, les internes sont classés dans le sous-groupe 3111—Médecins et chirurgiens.

Aides. — En règle générale les aides sont classés soit dans la profession dans laquelle ils travaillent soit comme manoeuvres dans les sous-groupes appropriés intitulés "Manoeuvres". Comme in Labouring and Other Elemental Work". The determining factors, as explained in Volume I of the CCDO, are the educational and vocational requirements for each occupation. For those "helpers" listed in the Alphabetical Index these factors have been taken into consideration. For helpers not listed, the most important duties of the occupation should be used as a guide to classification.

Foremen and Supervisors. — These titles are used to describe a wide range of supervisory occupations in both goods and service producing industries. Some of these occupations are closely associated with the workers supervised and may involve performance of some of the work or may involve a purely supervisory function including assigning work and co-ordinating the efforts of a group of workers, sometimes a group carrying out a variety of types of work. Commencing with Minor Group 337—Occupations in Sport and Recreation, the first unit group within each minor group is reserved for supervisors (foremen). Four exceptions have been made to this rule viz. in Minor Groups 611—Protective Service Occupations; 614—Personal Service Occupations; 731—Fishing, Hunting, Trapping and Related Occupations; and 915—Water Transport Operating Occupations. In Minor Groups 611 and 614 supervisory staff are classified with the workers they supervise. In Minor Groups 731 and 915, the occupation of captain of a vessel is classified in its own special group. The last digit of the four-digit code designating supervisors (foremen) is characteristically a zero (0).

Labourers. — In the 1961 Census Classification, all labourers except those engaged in the primary industries (i.e. agriculture, fishing, logging or mining) were coded to one class. In the CCDO, however, each relevant minor group contains a unit group "Occupations in Labouring and Other Elemental Work" to accommodate occupations requiring little educational development or vocational preparation. Most four-digit codes designating occupations in labouring and other elemental work have a final digit eight (8).

Members of the Armed Forces. — Two unit groups are provided for members of the Armed Forces; 6116—Commissioned Officers and 6117—Other Ranks. As the Canadian Armed Forces are now a unified force, rank structures are identical for all three environments—land, sea and air. Those holding the rank of Officer Cadet or higher are coded to 6116, while those having the rank of Chief Warrant Officer or lower are coded to 6117. Traditional ranks such as Commodore or Petty Officer are translated into the singular rank structure. For census purposes members of the Armed Forces are not coded to the kind of work they do, even though it may be reported on the census questionnaire. Coders il est expliqué dans le Volume I du CDCP, les critères qui entrent en ligne de compte sont les exigences de formation académique et professionnelle de chaque profession. Ces critères ont été pris en considération pour les "aides" énumérés dans l'index alphabétique. Pour les autres, les tâches les plus importantes de la profession devraient être utilisées comme critères de classement.

Contremaîtres et surveillants. — Ce titre englobe un large éventail de professions de surveillance que ce soit dans le secteur secondaire ou dans le secteur tertiaire. Certaines de ces professions sont liées aux travaux exécutés par les personnes que les contremaîtres ou surveillants dirigent et peuvent impliquer l'accomplissement d'une partie du travail; d'autres, au contraire, se limitent à la surveillance, à la distribution et à la coordination du travail à l'intérieur d'un groupe de travailleurs, groupe qui peut accomplir plusieurs genres de travail. A partir du sous-groupe 337—Professions en sport et récréation, le premier groupe de base à l'intérieur de chaque sous-groupe est réservé aux surveillants (contremaîtres). A cela il y a quatre exceptions, à savoir: Les sous-groupes 611 Occupations dans les services de protection; 614 Occupations dans le domaine des services personnels; 731 Chasseurs, trappeurs, pêcheurs et occupations connexes; 915 Occupations dans l'exploitation du transport maritime. Dans les sous-groupes 611 et 614 le personnel de surveillance est classé avec les travailleurs dont il a charge. Dans les sous-groupes 731 et 915, la profession de capitaine de vaisseau est classée dans son propre groupe. Les numéros-codes à quatre chiffres des surveillants (contremaîtres), se terminent par un zéro (0).

Manoeuvres. — Dans la classification du recensement de 1961, les manoeuvres, à l'exclusion de ceux qui travaillaient dans le secteur primaire (agriculture, pêche, abattage ou extraction minière) étaient codés dans une seule classe. Dans le CDCP au contraire, chaque sous-groupe topique comprend un groupe de base réservé au codage des professions qui exigent une formation académique ou professionnelle minime. La plupart des numéros-codes à quatre chiffres qui désignent les professions de cette catégorie se terminent par le chiffre huit (8).

Membres des Forces armées. — Les membres des Forces armées sont répartis en deux groupes de base: 6116 Officiers des Forces armées; 6117 Autres grades des Forces armées. Comme les Forces armées canadiennes sont maintenant unifiées, les grades sont identiques pour les trois armées—de terre, de mer et de l'air. Ceux qui ont le grade d'officier des cadets ou un grade supérieur sont classés dans le groupe de base 6116, tandis que ceux qui ont le grade d'adjudant ou un grade inférieur sont classés dans le sous-groupe 6117. Des grades traditionnels comme ceux de commodore ou de maître sont également classés par rapport à cette structure. Pour les besoins du recensement, simply determine the individual's rank and apply the relevant code number.

Civilian employees at the Department of National Defence are, of course, coded elsewhere in the classification structure by kind of work performed.

Members of Religious Orders. — Those members of religious communities or orders who are primarily engaged in occupations other than those in Major Group 25—Occupations in Religion (e.g. in teaching, nursing, social welfare work, sewing, bookbinding, cooking or farming) should be classified in accordance with the kind of work performed. Thus, for Census purposes, Major Group 25 is intended to include only those primarily engaged in performing religious functions.

Managers. — A distinction is drawn between managers in large organizations and small shop-owners or businessmen managing their own businesses as working proprietors.

Managers in large organizations include executives and senior officials of government, social institutions, scientific institutions and business corporations. The essential function in the work performed in these occupations is that of policy-making. Such managers are classified to Major Group 11—Managerial, Administrative and other Related Occupations.

Departmental managers of retail chain or department stores, store managers of retail chain stores and store managers of supermarket chains are not classified in Major Group 11 since they are considered to be primarily occupied with carrying out policy that is established at headquarters. Accordingly they are classified as supervisors in the relevant minor groups.

Managers in the professional field such as in law, accounting or pharmacy are classified according to work performed. In most instances they will be coded to the unit group related to their profession rather than Major Group 11.

Special managerial groups have been created for hotel or motel managers and for farm managers. These are Unit Group 6131—Managers: Hotel, Motel and Other Accommodation and Unit Group 7131—Farm Management Occupations.

Proprietors. — Proprietors (or owners, co-owners, partners) are differentiated in the census enumeration into two categories i.e.: Proprietor les membres des Forces armées ne sont pas classés en fonction du travail qu'ils accomplissent, bien que cela puisse être indiqué sur le questionnaire du recensement. Les responsables du codage déterminent tout simplement le grade du militaire et le classement dans le numéro-code qui s'y rapporte.

Les employés civils du ministère de la Défense nationale sont évidemment classés dans d'autres groupes de la classification, suivant le genre de travail exécuté.

Religieux. — Les membres des communautés ou ordres religieux dont la principale activité, soit l'enseignement, les soins infirmiers, l'assistance sociale, la couture, la reliure, la cuisine ou le travail agricole n'entre pas dans le cadre du grand groupe 25—Occupations en religion, mais doivent être classés en fonction du travail accompli. Ainsi, pour les besoins du recensement, le grand groupe 25 ne doit comprendre que les religieux qui sont chargés uniquement de fonctions religieuses.

Directeurs. — On fait une distinction entre les directeurs qui travaillent dans de grandes compagnies d'une part et les petits propriétaires de magasins et les hommes d'affaires qui dirigent leur propre entreprise en tant que propriétaires actifs, d'autre part.

Sont considérés comme directeurs de grandes compagnies, les hauts-fonctionnaires, les directeurs d'institutions sociales, d'institutions scientifiques et de sociétés commerciales. Leur fonction essentielle consiste à prendre des décisions. Ils sont classés dans le grand groupe 11—Directeurs, administrateurs et occupations connexes.

Les chefs de succursales ou de rayons des grands magasins ou des magasins à succursales multiples, les gérants de ces magasins, les gérants de supermarchés et les directeurs de motels ou d'hôtels faisant partie d'une chaîne ne sont pas classés dans le grand groupe 11 puisqu'ils sont surtout chargés d'exécuter les décisions prises par la direction. Ils sont donc classés comme surveillants dans les sous-groupes topiques.

Les directeurs qui exercent leur activité dans les professions libérales—juristes, comptables, pharmaciens...—sont classés suivant le travail accompli. Dans la plupart des cas ils seront classés dans le sous-groupe qui se rapporte à leur profession plutôt que dans le grand groupe 11.

On a créé des groupes spéciaux pour les directeurs d'exploitations agricoles et les directeurs d'hôtels ou de motels. Il s'agit des groupes de base 6131—Gérants d'hôtels, motels et autres logements et 7131—Gérants de ferme.

Propriétaires. — Les propriétaires, (copropriétaires ou associés) sont subdivisés, pour les besoins du recensement, en deux catégories: pro-

(OA) and Proprietor (E). In some cases "employers" are coded differently than "own accounts" in the same kind of business. As a general rule, proprietors are coded to the occupations associated with the particular business or industry concerned, either as supervisors or as members of the relevant trade, craft or profession. In other cases all relevant proprietors are classified to the trade or craft concerned, as illustrated by the following examples:

Proprietor (E or OA) and Manager—Barber shop, beauty shop (classified in the Unit Group 6143—Barbers and Hairdressers).

Proprietor (E or OA) and Manager—Custom tailoring shop (Classified in Unit Group 8553—Tailors and Dressmakers).

Proprietor (E or OA) and Manager—Photographic studio (Classified in Unit Group 3315—Photographers and Cameramen).

Proprietor (E or OA) and Manager—Shoe repair shop (Classified in Unit Group 8561—Shoe-making and Repairing).

Examples of Proprietors (E or OA) whose main work activity is taken to be either supervisory, or purely administrative, and who are coded as supervisors within their respective minor groups are:

Proprietor (E or OA) and Manager—Art gallery (classified in Unit Group 5130—Supervisors: Sales Occupations, Commodities). Note: Managers of public art galleries are called "curators" and are coded to Unit Group 2350.

Proprietor (E or OA) and Managers—Rooming house, Tourist cabins, Motel, etc. (Classified in Unit Group 6131—Manager: Hotel, Motel and Other Accommodation).

The general assumption is that Proprietor (OA) i.e. without paid employees is primarily engaged in the trade or craft indicated. Therefore, a person reported as an own-account contractor in carpentry, painting, plumbing, etc. is classified with the appropriate tradesmen. An own-account taxi-cab or truck-owner is classified in Unit Group 9173—Taxi Drivers and Chauffeurs or Unit Group 9175—Truck Drivers. An own-account artificial flower-maker is classified in Unit Group 8599—Other Product Fabricating, Assembling and Repairing Occupations n.e.c.

As a general rule, a Proprietor (E) i.e. with paid employees is deemed to be concerned mainly with supervising others in the running of his business priétaire (PC) et propriétaire (E). Parfois, les propriétaires qui ont des "employés" sont codés différemment des propriétaires qui travaillent à leur "propre compte" dans le même genre d'activité. En règle générale, les propriétaires sont codés en fonction des professions qui se rapportent à l'entreprise ou l'industrie concernée, soit comme surveillants, soit comme membres de la profession ou du métier touché. Dans certains cas tous les propriétaires sont classés en fonction du commerce ou du métier concerné, comme par exemple:

Propriétaire (E ou PC) et gérant—Salon de barbier, Salon de beauté (classé dans le groupe de base 6143—Barbiers, coiffeurs et occupations connexes)

Propriétaire (E ou PC) et gérant—Atelier de tailleur (classé dans le groupe de base 8553—Tailleurs et couturiers)

Propriétaire (E ou PC) et gérant—Atelier de photographie (classé dans le groupe de base 3315—Photographes et caméramen)

Propriétaire (E ou PC) et gérant—Atelier de réparations de chaussures (classé dans le groupe de base 8561—Cordonniers).

Voici maintenant quelques exemples de propriétaires (E ou PC) dont la principale activité est soit de surveiller soit de gérer, et qui sont codés comme surveillants à l'intérieur de leurs sous-groupes respectifs.

Propriétaire (E ou PC) et gérant—Galerie d'art (classé dans le groupe de base 5130—Surveillants: vendeurs de marchandise). Note: Les directeurs de galeries d'art sont considérés comme des "conservateurs" et sont classés dans le groupe de base 2350.

Propriétaire (E ou PC) et gérant—Maison de chambres, cabines touristiques, motel, etc. (classé dans le groupe de base 6131—Gérants d'hôtels, motels et autres logements).

Ces distinctions se fondent sur l'hypothèse que le propriétaire (PC) c'est-à-dire sans employés rémunérés sous ses ordres exerce l'activité de la profession ou du métier indiqué. Par conséquent, une personne dénombrée comme entrepreneur indépendant en charpenterie, peinture, plomberie, etc. est classée avec les personnes qui exercent ces différentes professions. Un propriétaire de taxi ou de camion qui conduit lui-même son véhicule est classé dans le groupe de base 9173—Chauffeurs privés et de taxi ou dans le groupe de base 9175—Conducteurs de camion. Une personne qui fabrique, à son propre compte, des fleurs artificielles est classée dans le groupe de base 8599—Autres occupations en fabrication, assemblage et réparation de produits n.c.a.

En règle générale, un propriétaire (E), c'est-à-dire avec employés rémunérés sous ses ordres, est censé n'accomplir que des tâches de direction; il and is, therefore, coded to the supervisors (foremen) unit group within the appropriate minor group. Examples are:

Broker (E)—Real estate (classified in Unit Group 5170—Supervisors: Sales Occupations, Services).

Proprietor (E)—Auto repair shop (classified in Unit Group 8580—Foremen, Mechanics and Repairmen except Electrical).

Proprietor (E)—Taxi cab operation (classified in Unit Group 9170—Foremen, Motor Transport Operating Occupations).

Census coding of occupation for the various categories of proprietor is complex. When in doubt, the coder is instructed to consider all factors including income, status, and main work activity of the individual in relation to his business and the nature and scope of the business itself before a decision is made.

Teachers and Instructors.—Persons engaged in the teaching profession, whether as professors, school teachers, or instructors in other types of institutions are coded to Major Group 27. (This excludes physical education instructors—not in schools—who are coded to Unit Group 3370—Coaches, Trainers, Instructors and Managers, Sport and Recreation).

Persons primarily engaged in giving on-the-job-training as their regular employment are considered to be distinct from foremen and are, therefore, classified in an appropriate unit group within Minor Group 279—Other Teaching and Related Occupations.

Presidents and Deans of Faculties in universities as well as principals in all types of schools, including business colleges, are considered to be administrators and are coded to Unit Group 1133—Administrators in Teaching and Related Fields.

Abbreviations

A list of abbreviations used in this volume is given on page 22 and is, for the most part, self-explanatory. Particular attention, however, should be given to the abbreviations "n.s.", "n.e.c.", "n.e.s." and "n.o.r.". "N.s." means "not stated" or "not specified" in the census return. "N.e.c." means "not elsewhere classified" in the occupational classification. "N.e.s." means "not elsewhere specified" in the occupational classification. "N.o.r." means "not otherwise reported" on the census return.

est, par conséquent, classé dans le groupe de base des surveillants (contremaîtres) à l'intérieur du sous-groupe approprié. Voici quelques exemples:

Courtier (E)—Agence immobilière (classé dans le groupe de base 5170—Surveillants: Vendeurs de services).

Propriétaire (E)—Atelier de réparation d'automobiles (classé dans le groupe de base 8580—Contremaîtres mécaniciens et réparateurs sauf en électricité).

Propriétaire (E)—Taxi (classé dans le groupe de base 9170—Contremaîtres, occupation dans l'exploitation du transport par véhicule-automobile).

Le codage des différentes catégories de propriétaires est complexe. Dans le doute, la personne chargée du codage doit, avant de prendre une décision, considérer tous les facteurs qui entrent en ligne de compte: revenu, position, principale activité de la personne en question par rapport à son entreprise et nature et envergure de l'entreprise elle-même.

Enseignants et instructeurs.—Les personnes dont la profession est d'enseigner, que ce soit à titre d'enseignant dans une école, (professeur, instituteur) ou instructeur dans d'autres genres d'institutions, sont classés dans le grand groupe 27. (Les moniteurs d'éducation physique qui n'exercent pas leur activité dans des écoles sont classés dans le groupe de base 3370—Gérants, entraîneurs et instructeurs dans les sports et loisirs).

Les personnes dont la principale activité consiste à donner des cours de formation professionnelle dans les entreprises mêmes sont séparées des contremaîtres et sont, par conséquent, classés dans un groupe de base approprié à l'intérieur du sous-groupe 279—Autres enseignants et occupations connexes.

Les présidents et doyens des facultés ainsi que les directeurs d'écoles, écoles de commerce comprises, sont considérés comme des administrateurs et sont classés dans le groupe de base 1133—Administrateurs dans l'enseignement et autres domaines connexes.

Abréviations

Une liste des abréviations utilisées dans le présent volume est donnée à la page 22. La plupart de ces abréviations se passent de commentaires. Il convient, toutefois, d'accorder une attention particulière aux abréviations suivantes: "n.p.", "n.c.a.", "n.p.a." et "n.d.a.". "N.p." signifie "non précisé" dans le questionnaire du recensement. "N.c.a." signifie "non classé ailleurs" dans la classification des professions. "N.p.a." signifie "non précisé ailleurs" dans la classification des professions. "N.d.a." signifie "non déclaré autrement" dans le questionnaire du recensement.

Not stated (n.s.) usually indicates that other similar but more specific occupational titles are listed in the Alphabetical Index. The code symbol assigned to the title, qualified by this abbreviation, is to be used only when the reported occupation together with any other entry on the Census Questionnaire (particularly the industry entry) does not indicate one of the more precise titles shown. A case in point is the title "8273 - Washer n.s. - Textile Mill" which appears in the Alphabetical Index along with such titles as "Washer, Fabric - Textile Mill" and "Washer, Brush - Textile Mill". In coding "Washer", therefore, the coder carefully examines the list of "Washers" given and only uses the code for "Washer n.s." if the one reported does not fit the other titles shown.

In the Index "n.s." is frequently implied, e.g. when the title "Manager" or "Foreman" (unqualified) is followed by a dash and in industry qualification. In such cases, therefore, the coder does not use the assigned occupational code if the specific kind of manager or foreman is reported in the occupation entry of the Census Questionnaire. That is, if the Questionnaire indicates a foreman in wholesale trade is, in fact, a "Shipping Foreman", then he should be classified to Unit Group 4150 - Supervisors: Material Recording, Scheduling and Distributing Occupations and not Unit Group 5130 - Supervisors: Sales Occupations, Commodities. It is the nature of the work done in the department of the establishment in which a person works, not the principle activity of the establishment, which qualifies the occupation. For example, if the occupation is reported as "Manager" and the kind of business entry is "Printing and Publishing (circulation department)" such a person would be classified to Unit Group 1137 - Sales and Advertising Management Occupations. The coder assesses other relevant criteria to determine whether the person concerned is performing a management occupation of the type included in Major Group 11, or a "supervisory" type of occupation.

If an occupation reported on the Questionnaire is not listed in any form in the Index, it is necessary to classify it in the most appropriate unit group of the relevant minor group. An occupation is classified to the residual (n.e.c.) unit group of its relevant minor group if it cannot be ascertained that it belongs in any particular unit group: for example, "Metal Ceiling Hanger - Construction" cannot be classified in any of the specific unit groups within Minor Group 878/879 - Other Construction Trades Occupations and must, therefore, be classified in Unit Group 8799 - Other Construction Trades Occupations n.e.c.

L'expression "non précisé" (n.p.) est habituellement utilisée pour indiquer que des professions similaires mais plus spécifiques sont énumérées dans l'index alphabétique. Le numéro-code de la profession suivi de cette abréviation ne doit être utilisé que lorsque la profession indiquée avec une autre inscription sur le questionnaire du recensement (et plus particulièrement une inscription relative à l'industrie) ne mentionne pas un des titres de profession plus précis existants. Un exemple qui illustre cela est le titre "9151 - Capitaine, n.p. - Transport par eau" qui est mentionné dans l'index alphabétique accompagné de titres comme "Capitaine de police - Toute ind." et "Capitaine de bateau - Toute ind." Par conséquent, la personne chargée du codage devra soigneusement examiner la liste de "capitaine" donnée et utiliser le numéro-code de "capitaine n.p." que si la profession qui est déclarée ne correspond pas aux autres titres indiqués.

Dans l'index, l'expression "n.p." est souvent sous-entendue; par exemple, quand le titre de "Directeur" ou de "Contremaître" (sans autre précision) est suivi d'un tiret et d'une qualification d'industrie. Dans ce cas, la personne chargée du codage, ne doit pas utiliser le numéro-code professionnel qui est donné si le genre précis de directeur ou de contremaître est déclaré dans le questionnaire du recensement. Si par exemple, le questionnaire indique qu'un contremaître dans le commerce de gros est en fait un "contremaître expédition", ce dernier doit être classé dans le groupe de base 4150 - Surveillants: occupations en inscription et distribution du matériel et non pas dans le groupe de base 5170 - Surveillants: vendeurs de services. C'est la nature du travail accompli dans le service de l'établissement dans lequel une personne travaille et non la principale activité de l'établissement qui détermine la profession. Par exemple, si la profession mentionnée est "Directeur" et que le genre de commerce mentionné est "Imprimerie et édition (services de publicité)", la personne en question serait classée dans le groupe de base 1137 - Directeurs de vente et de publicité. La personne chargée du codage évalue d'autres critères topiques pour déterminer si la personne en question accomplit des tâches de direction du genre de celles qui sont incluses dans le grand groupe 11, ou une tâche de "surveillance".

Lorsqu'une profession déclarée au questionnaire n'apparaît pas dans l'index, il faut la classer dans le groupe de base le plus approprié du sous-groupe concerné. Une profession est classée dans le groupe de base résiduel (n.c.a.) de son sous-groupe si elle ne peut pas être classée dans un groupe de base particulier. Par exemple, la profession de "Démolisseur (PC ou S) - Bâtiments" ne peut être classée dans aucun des groupes de base du sous-groupe 878-879 - Autres occupations dans la construction et doit, par conséquent, être classée dans le groupe de base 8799 - Autres occupations dans la construction, n.c.a.

If a reported occupation cannot be assigned to a specific minor group but is identified as coming within the general definition of a particular major group, then that occupation is classified in the residual (n.e.c.) unit group of the last minor group within that major group. For example, "Ivory Carver—Any Industry" falls within the general definition of Major Group 83—Machining and Related Occupations but it is not specific to any one of the relevant minor groups of "machinists". It is therefore assigned code 8399 which is the residual unit group of the last minor group (839) within Major Group 83.

If the situation should arise whereby an occupation could conceivably be classified in two or more minor groups within one major group, then that occupation will likewise be assigned to the last residual (n.e.c.) unit group of the last minor group within that major group: for example, "Button Maker—Button Mfg." could be classified in more than one minor group in Major Group 85—Product Fabricating Assembling and Repairing Occupations and must be classified in the last minor group (859). To advance one step further, if an occupation is so described that it might be assigned to any of two or more major groups (usually due to lack of specificity) then it is assigned to one of the appropriate unit groups of Minor Group 991—Occupations Not Elsewhere Classified of the last major group (99): for example, "Equipment Cleaner—Any Industry" could be in several major groups and is, therefore, classified in Unit Group 9919—Other Occupations n.e.c.

Major Group 99 thus serves a dual purpose; first as a residual for occupations that cannot, for some reason, be included in any one of the foregoing major groups; and secondly, to accommodate situations such as that cited in the example above where more than one major group is involved.

Not Elsewhere Specified (n.e.s.) is used interchangeably with "n.e.c." It is a holdover from the 1961 Classification whereas "n.e.c." is used exclusively in the CCDO.

Not Otherwise Reported (n.o.r.) covers such cases as those in which the lay occupations of members of religious orders who are primarily engaged in performing lay duties are not reported on the Census Questionnaire. "N.o.r." was used in the title of Unit Group 2513—Nuns and Brothers, n.o.r. to permit inclusion of lay occupations for which the type of work performed is not indicated on the Questionnaire. In coding a nun or brother, therefore, the coder uses code 2513 only if a lay occupation is not reported.

Si une profession ne peut être classée dans aucun sous-groupe spécifique mais peut être définie comme faisant partie d'un grand groupe précis, il faut alors classer cette profession dans le groupe de base résiduel (n.c.a.) du dernier sous-groupe qui appartient au grand groupe en question. Par exemple, la profession de "Mouleur de chandelle—Toute ind." appartient au grand groupe 85—Occupations en fabrication, assemblage et réparation de produits, mais ne peut être affectée à aucun des sous-groupes faisant partie de ce grand groupe. Elle recevra donc le numéro-code 8599, c'est-à-dire le numéro du groupe de base résiduel du dernier sous-groupe (859) du grand groupe 85.

De même, lorsqu'une profession peut être classée dans deux ou plusieurs sous-groupes à l'intérieur d'un grand groupe, il faut classer cette profession dans le dernier groupe de base résiduel (n.c.a.) du dernier sous-groupe du grand groupe. Par exemple, la profession de "Opérateur de machine—Manuf. diverses" pourrait être classée dans plusieurs sous-groupes du grand groupe 85—Occupations en fabrication, assemblage et réparation de produits; elle doit donc être classée dans le dernier sous-groupe (859). Si, enfin, une profession est décrite de telle manière qu'elle pourrait être classée dans deux ou plusieurs grands groupes (habituellement en raison d'un manque de précision), il faut classer cette profession dans l'un des groupes de base appropriés du sous-groupe 991—Occupations non-classées ailleurs du dernier grand groupe (99). Par exemple, la profession "Nettoyeur de machine—Toute ind. n.c.a." pourrait se trouver dans plusieurs grands groupes; il faut, par conséquent, la classer dans le groupe de base 9919—Autres occupations, n.c.a.

Le grand groupe 99 a ainsi une fonction double; primo, en tant que groupe résiduel, on y classe les professions qui ne peuvent pas, pour une raison ou une autre, être incluses dans l'un des grands groupes précédents; et secundo, pour régler des cas du genre de celui qui est donné en exemple ci-dessus lorsqu'il y a possibilité de classer une profession dans plusieurs grands groupes.

Les expressions "non précisé ailleurs" (n.p.a.) et "non classé ailleurs" (n.c.a.) sont indifféremment utilisées l'une pour l'autre. La première provient de la classification de 1961 tandis que la seconde est utilisée dans le CDCP.

L'expression "non déclaré autrement" (n.d.a.) est utilisée dans certains cas, comme, par exemple, les activités laïques des membres d'ordres religieux qui n'apparaissent pas dans le questionnaire du recensement. L'adjonction de l'abréviation "n.d.a." dans le titre du groupe de base 2513—Religieuses et frères, n.d.a. englobe les activités laïques qui ne sont pas indiquées dans le questionnaire. Le numéro-code 2513 ne sera donc utilisé que si une soeur ou un frère exerce une activité laïque qui n'est pas précisée.

Language

In order to reflect the bilingual nature of Canada's labour force, the 1971 Occupational Classification Manual is published in both an English and a bilingual form. In the latter, both English and French occupational titles are listed in one alphabetical arrangement to produce a bilingual index. An English volume has been produced for use in those areas where French is unlikely to be reported. The French titles in the bilingual volume are those commonly used and are not translations of the English titles. As a fund of occupational titles reported in French is accumulated, future editions can include a completely French manual.

Alphabetical Arrangement in the Indexes of this Manual

Each word in a title is taken separately for purposes of alphabetical arrangement; this follows the practice used in the SIC. The following titles will be found in this order in the index:

car dealer	carder
car painter	caretaker
car washer	carpenter
card grinder	carton wrapper

Where the same occupational title is listed more than once, then the alphabetical order of the industry qualification prevails. For example:

car painter—auto repair shop
car painter—garage
car painter—motor vehicle mfg.

The same occupational title may be shown in three different spelling arrangements, if such is the case, the following alphabetical order prevails:

pipe line foreman
pipe-line foreman
pipeline foreman

It is important, therefore, if a title is not found readily in the Alphabetical Index, to consider whether it may have been reported as a single word or as two or more separate words.

Multiple-Word Occupational Titles

Many occupational titles shown in the Index contain two or more words. If an attempt were made to cross-index all multiple-word titles, the Index would become so long as to be unwieldy. In the Alphabetical Index, therefore, the following practices are followed:

Langue

Afin de refléter le caractère bilingue de la population active au Canada, le Manuel de classification des professions de 1971 est publié en anglais et sous une forme bilingue. Dans cette dernière, les titres anglais et français des professions sont énumérés dans un seul ordre alphabétique pour former un index bilingue. Un volume anglais a été publié pour être utilisé dans les régions où l'on ne parle pas le français. Les dénominations françaises dans le volume bilingue sont celles qui sont communément utilisées: il ne s'agit pas de traductions des dénominations anglaises. Une fois qu'on aura accumulé un nombre suffisant de dénominations françaises, les futures éditions du Manuel pourront comprendre un volume unilingue français.

Index alphabétique

Chaque mot d'une dénomination de profession est pris séparément pour la présentation par ordre alphabétique; il s'agit là d'une pratique conforme à celle qui est utilisée dans la CAE. Exemples:

capitaine	capitaine, n.p.
capitaine de bateau	caponizer
capitaine de chalutier	caporal
capitaine de police	capper

Lorsqu'une dénomination revient à plusieurs reprises, c'est l'ordre alphabétique des mots précisant l'industrie qui entre en ligne de compte. Par exemple:

assistant de laboratoire—hôpital
assistant de laboratoire—sciences physiques

La même dénomination de langue anglaise peut paraître sous trois formes différentes dans l'index alphabétique. Dans tel cas, l'ordre alphabétique suivi est celui-ci:

car painter—auto repair shop
car painter—garage
car painter—motor vehicle mfg.

Cette situation ne se présente pas dans les dénominations de langue française.

Dénominations composées

Dans l'index, plusieurs dénominations de langue anglaise de professions se composent de deux mots ou plus. Si on avait fait des renvois pour toutes les dénominations composées, l'index aurait été tellement volumineux qu'il en serait devenu peu maniable. On a, par conséquent, observé les règles suivantes dans l'établissement de l'index alphabétique:

- (a) Certain occupational titles, are commonly reported in a given order and are indexed only in that order. Examples are:

cabinet maker	lathe hand
calendar man	notary public
drill runner	paper boy
heat treater	track worker
kiln burner	trouble shooter

- (b) Cross-Indexing: Occupational titles which are commonly reported both in natural order of the words and in some inverted order are shown both ways in the Alphabetical Index: for example, "Parking Attendant" and "Attendant, Parking", "Bottling Foreman" and "Foreman, Bottling". There are many cases in which multiple-word titles are cross-indexed. It is necessary to try all possible orders of words before deciding that the title is not in the Alphabetical Index.

- (c) Key Word: An exception to (b) is an occupational title containing the key word "Operator". Such a title will be shown only in its inverted form in the Alphabetical Index: for example, "Operator, Bleach—Pulp and Paper Mill". Since no inverted titles are shown in the Classified Index, this title appears in that Index as "Bleach Operator".

Abbreviated Occupational Titles

Abbreviated occupational titles appear at the beginning of each alphabetical section as determined by the first letter. Examples are: "C.P.A." for Certified Public Accountant; "D.D.S." for Doctor of Dental Surgery; "P.B.X. Operator" for Private Branch Exchange Operator; "R.O.P. Inspector" for Record of Performance Inspector.

Words in Parentheses

Some occupational titles in the manual contain words in parentheses. For example, see the titles "Refrigeration Engineer (Mech. Engineer)" and "Refrigeration Engineer (Stationary Engineer)". The title "Refrigeration Engineer" describes different jobs depending upon whether the incumbent requires professional qualification. Because of the abundance of "engineers" in the labour force today, coders are instructed to pay special attention to cases in which this word is included in a title. The coder must refer to the individual's schooling in order to determine whether to apply one of the unit group codes under Minor Group 214, reserved for professional engineers or some other appropriate unit group code (not professional) consistent with the nature of the work performed.

- (a) Certaines dénominations composées de langue anglaise sont habituellement énoncées dans un ordre donné; elles sont alors indiquées dans cet ordre uniquement. Par exemple:

cabinet maker	lathe hand
calender man	notary public
drill runner	paper boy
heat treater	track worker
kiln burner	trouble shooter

- (b) Renvois: Certaines dénominations composées de langue anglaise peuvent être énoncées indifféremment dans l'ordre habituel ou dans un ordre inverse; elles sont alors indiquées des deux façons. Par exemple: "Parking Attendant", et "Attendant, Parking", "Bottling Foreman" et "Foreman, Bottling".

- (c) Mots-clés: Faisant exception à ce qui a été formulé en (b), les dénominations composées dans lesquelles apparaît le mot-clé "operator" sont indiquées dans l'ordre inverse. Par exemple: "Operator, Bleach—Pulp and Paper Mill". Comme l'index analytique ne contient pas de dénominations inverses, cette profession y est indiquée de la manière suivante: "Bleach Operator".

Dénominations abrégées

Les dénominations abrégées des professions sont indiquées au début de chaque section alphabétique en fonction de la première lettre. Exemples: "D.D.S."—pour "Doctor of Dental Surgery"; "C.A."—pour "Comptable agréé"; "P.B.X." pour "Private Branch Exchange Operator"; "R.O.P. Inspector" pour "Record of Performance Inspector".

Mots entre parenthèses

Certaines désignations de professions comprennent des mots indiqués entre parenthèses. Les dénominations "Ingénieur chimiste (diplômé)" et "Ingénieur civil (diplômé)" en sont des exemples. La dénomination "ingénieur" se rapporte à différents travaux accomplis par des gens de qualifications professionnelles diverses. En raison de l'abondance, de nos jours, d'"ingénieurs" dans la population active, les personnes chargées du codage doivent accorder une attention spéciale aux cas dans lesquels ce mot apparaît. Il faut alors voir quelle est la formation de la personne en question, pour déterminer si elle doit être classée dans les groupes de base réunis sous le sous-groupe 214, réservé aux ingénieurs diplômés, ou dans quelque autre groupe de base convenant à la nature du travail exécuté.

Occupations Not Stated

A special code 0000 has been created to cover those situations in which the occupation cannot be determined from the Census Questionnaire.

Concluding Remarks

The indexes to this Occupational Classification Manual have been printed from type set on the basis of magnetic tape files. Approximately 25,000 punched cards were assembled for the programme (including inverted titles) and considerable editing was involved to keep the number of cards to a minimum, therefore abbreviations have been used extensively.

It should be pointed out that while every effort has been made to ensure that occupations in this manual are classified to the same groups as they will be in Volume I of the CCDO, some inconsistencies are inevitable due to the unavoidable difference in publication deadlines. It should also be noted that the major, minor and unit group titles in the classified index in Volume II of the Census Manual are a condensed form of those shown in the list of group titles. This was necessary to accommodate the titles in the limited space available.

Close liaison has been maintained between the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Department of Manpower and Immigration during the development of the CCDO and of this manual classification. Nevertheless, the lists and definitions of all occupations in the CCDO had not been finalized when the Census manual went to print and the complete CCDO being developed in the Department of Manpower and Immigration will not be published for some months. It is expected, however, that the detailed CCDO Volume I will be available for reference purposes during census coding and it will be extremely valuable when used in conjunction with the present Manual.

Occupations non déclarées

Un code spécial 0000 fut créé pour les situations où l'occupation ne peut pas être déterminée à partir du questionnaire de recensement.

Conclusion

Les index du Manuel de classification des professions ont été composés à partir de bandes magnétiques. Environ 25,000 cartes perforées ont été utilisées pour le programme (y compris les dénominations inversées) et il a fallu accomplir un travail considérable de préparation pour arriver à avoir un nombre minimum de cartes; cela explique que l'on ait abondamment recours aux abréviations.

On a tout fait pour que les professions énumérées dans ce manuel soient classées dans les mêmes groupes du Volume I du CDCP; il convient de souligner toutefois qu'il y aura fatalement certaines contradictions en raison de la différence, inévitable, entre les dates de publication. Il convient également de noter que, à cause du manque d'espace, il a fallu indiquer les titres des grands groupes, sous-groupes et groupes de base dans l'index du Volume II du Manuel sous une forme condensée par rapport à la liste des titres de groupes.

Le Bureau fédéral de la statistique et le ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration ont travaillé en étroite collaboration tout au long de la préparation du CDCP et du Manuel de classification. Néanmoins, les listes et définitions de toutes les professions du CDCP n'étaient pas encore complétées lorsque le Manuel du recensement alla sous presse; le CDCP, compilé au ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration ne sera pas publié avant quelques mois. On prévoit, toutefois, que le Volume I du CDCP sera disponible, à titre d'ouvrage de référence, pour le codage du recensement; il constituera alors un heureux complément au présent Manuel.
